

SIX FEET UNDER

IN A DREAM

WAKE UP

You wake up in the dark, you cannot see a single thing. You hear weird noises coming from very close by. Suddenly you feel a strange sensation. Better said: you don't feel a thing. Every sensation is either numbed down or totally absent.

Where are you? To find out you want to use one of your senses, which are stronger than usual.

You smell earth, fresh and wet and cold. It feels kind of safe.

You feel wood, splintery and humid. Somehow it feels red.

You see nothing of course!

You sense dead people.

You hear thousands of little bugs, worms. You can hear the rustle of the trees, the gnawing of rats on roots.

Do you already know where you are?

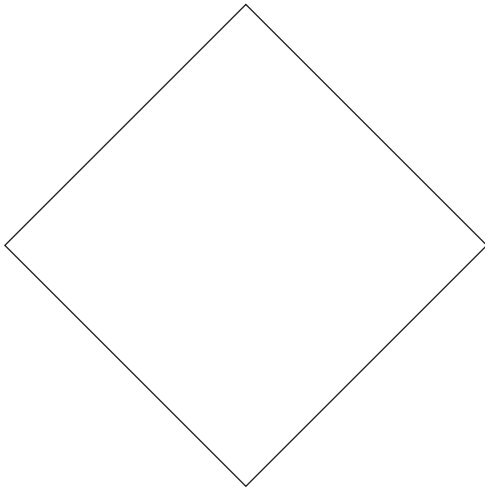

Do you already know where you are?

Try again

Do you already know where you are?

Do you already know where you are?

SIX FEET UNDER

IN A DREAM

So you found out you are in a grave,
down under, in the soil. Cold and empty.
But you don't feel distress. You have so many questions...

IN A DREAM

So it seems you are dreaming. Quite a weird dream though. Are you lucid dreaming?

SIX FEET UNDER

How did I die?

What am I?

Why am I here?

What is love?

IN A DREAM

Yes

Maybe a little bit

No idea.

You are a ghost.

Because you are dead, for Christ's sake! Let's get on with it...

Baby don't hurt me

IN A DREAM

Very well then, you know what to do.
The stage is yours for the pages left!

So it seems you are dreaming that you are a ghost. You can either go up or down. Which side will you pick?

Okay...So who am I anyways?

What?

Down

Yes, good question. Who are you? You examine your ghostly body. Were you a man or a woman?

You find yourself in a graveyard, the full moon shines bright through your translucent body. Do you want to fly?

You pass through layers and layers of stone, fossiles, until you reach the core of the earth. Further or back?

woman

....no more?

He'll yeah!

Further

Back

That's right, that was it!

You suddenly remember your name, it's

You get a bit drowsy whilst making loopings. You feel so amazingly light! Do you want to go left or right?

Suddenly you find yourself in the air again. Your hands are still glowing from the hot core. Left or right?

[.....], yeah that was it. Things are starting to come back slowly. You were in an accident, somewhere. Was it an accident? Something with a car. Your mother didn't see the red light. Yes. That was it. You wonder where your parents are right now and what they are doing. You could pay them a visit, show them that you are still there!

But how do you get out? You notice your physical body is there as well. It looks awful, but it has clothing on. You could search there for clues.

You fly and fly until you get so sick that you want to go down again. Slowly you float towards the little lights that appear to be the windows of houses. You see someone in there. Is it your parents house?

No

Nothing in there....[previous page]

Your hand wraps around a blunt object. It's cold surface reminds you of something made of steel. It feels like a talisman or something. It doesn't matter anymore, you want to get out of here.

What do you do next?

IN A DREAM

You see your mother baking your favorite pancakes. What was her hair color again?

Some old lady is baking cookies. She wears a knitted scarf. What color is it?

You hold it firmly, thinking “out out out!”

*You start hammering the thing into the splintery wood above your head.
Down with it!*

IN A DREAM

Red

Black

Apparently the thing is a talisman, because suddenly you are directly next to your very own gravestone. Wow. You puke some silverish stuff on it and while you wipe your mouth you wonder how that is even remotely possible. What's next?

After hours and hours of carving you suddenly get loads and loads of dirt on your head. You gasp for air. Just when you think you will suffocate you remember faintly that you are already dead. Slowly you crawl out. What 's next?

IN A DREAM

Suddenly your dream gets a hold on you. You are standing in front of a big building with a white dog. The dog looks at you and opens his mouth, speaking sarcastically: "So, that's nice and all- but what will you do?"

Ah yes. Her vivid eyes shooting from left to right, her hands doing the work so smoothly after years of routine. You are watching her for a while. People can be fascinating. What will you do?

Visit parents

Scare people to death

IN A DREAM

*You whisper: "nothing, my friend.
Wait and see."*

Go up to her and speak

Scare her to death

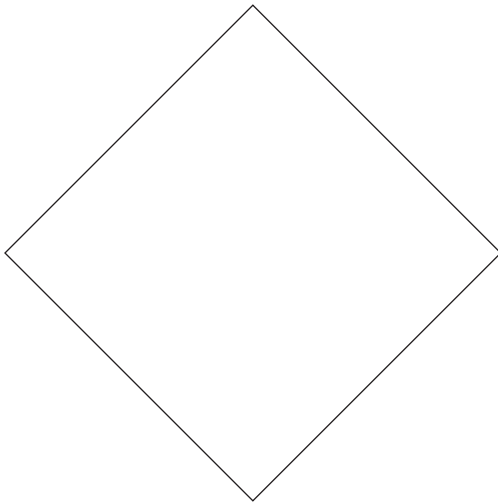

Your parents start to cry immediately when they see you. “We’ve missed you so much!” Your father explains that life didn’t make sense without you. You will promise your parents to never leave them again. How will you do that?

You feel like you are some kind of door-to-door salesman, the best there is! Within no time you have made a handful of ghostly friends. They look at you like they don’t know if they hate you or like you. One of them asks: “What will be our next step?”

Slowly a bunch of people are walking out of the building. They greet you and gather around you. One of them speaks: “Oh great leader, tell us what to do!”

She doesn’t realize who you are or who she is. Your mesmerising eyes nail her to the ground. In a vision, she starts babbling. Suddenly she asks you in a rasping voice: “What will be your next step?” She gives you two options.

Kill your parents

IN A DREAM

Kill everybody and rule the world

And you 'lived' happily ever after.

THE END
